BNP Paribas, a leader in global banking and financial services

For our Corporate & Institutional Banking division, located in Frankfurt am Main, we are currently searching an

Intern (m/f) Strategy and Business Development

Responsibilities:

Strategy & Business Development is a core strategic unit within our Corporate & Institutional Banking segment. The main role of the unit is to both support and challenge the daily business of our Corporate Coverage across Germany. Within this role, the unit is responsible for the formulation and implementation of strategic initiatives that drive a successful growth of the BNP Paribas franchise in the German Banking market.

As an intern in Strategy & Business Development you are an integrated part of a highly dynamic team, actively shaping the bank's growth ambitions in Germany. Exemplary tasks of an intern are:

- Supporting the team in implementing strategic projects/initiatives
- Performing targeted analyses of Corporate Coverage and its associated units activities
- Preparing and follow up management meetings

Requirements:

Ideally you are a business student with a major in Finance and an outstanding academic track record. Distinct interest in financial markets and a very good command of MS Office, especially Excel, are assets. High motivation, good self-organization, and a team player mindset are personality traits we appreciate. Fluency in both German and English is essential; working knowledge of French would be beneficial. If this job posting has sparked your interest and you are interested in carrying on your career with an internationally renowned bank, do not hesitate and apply online via our application management system.
